

FIVE STRONG REASONS

WHY YOU MUST MARRY
MR. RIGHT!

Omowonuola Omoghene

Five
strong reasons why you must marry Mr.
Right.

Omowonuola Omoghene

Five strong reasons why you must marry Mr. Right
Copyright © 2020, by Omowonuola Omoghene
All rights reserved

No part of this publication may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, or any information storage or retrieval system, except for brief quotations in the books and critical reviews, without permission in writing from the author.

Unless otherwise indicated, scripture quotations are taken from the New Living Translation version (NLT).

Designed by Omowonuola Omoghene.

DEDICATION

To God Almighty, the source and giver of inspiration.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My darling husband, Mr. O, thank you for allowing me to give expression to my God-given talent.

Zoe, thank you for being patient with mommy and her laptop.

Baby on the way, thank you for being a constant reminder that now is the best time to work on this.

INTRODUCTION

This little book is for you if you have gone from one relationship to another, experienced heartbreak after heartbreak and you are beginning to wonder if the kind of man you desire and deserve is out there.

He is and I do not want you to settle for less. You shouldn't have to manage in any relationship and this book will show you five strong reasons why.

Are you ready? Let us dig in!

1

To enhance your life, dreams and goals.

The right man will enhance your life in every way while the wrong one will hinder you.

When I was single, this was one strong reason that helped me control my feelings and focus on the facts before saying yes to courtship and marriage. I knew God has big plans for me. I knew my calling and I knew I needed someone who is more than willing to go all the way to support and enhance it.

I had seen examples of women who could "have gone far" in their lives but for their husbands who don't add any value, yet hinders them due to insecurity issues. I decided that wasn't going to be me.

It doesn't have to be you either. God has big plans for your life, and He knows that as a wife those plans will have to be submitted under your husband's authority.

Hence you must make a firm decision that you will marry the right man for you. No matter how long you've waited, it cannot be compared to the remaining years you have on earth.

So, you must ensure that this guy you're considering will enhance your life, dreams and goals. You must ensure that he will not hinder you. You must ensure that he'd be an addition not a subtraction, a contributor not a destroyer, an up lifter and promoter not a hinderer.

Here's what the Bible says about this:

"Two people are better off than one, for they can help each other succeed" Ecclesiastes 4:9 NLT

And you can know from now if this person will help you succeed. Just answer these questions honestly:

Does he listen when you share ideas, goals, projects God lays on your heart etc.?

Does he share ideas with you about how to implement such?

Does he check on your progress in the things you're doing now?

Can you sense or see that he prays for you?

Do you even feel comfortable enough to share ideas and rub minds with him? Or is he already a distraction and a derailleur?

Is the relationship causing you so much trouble that you can't even think of personal plans and goals? Answer honestly!

I am blessed to be married to a man who enhances my life. I know the blessing of being married to someone who is invested mentally, physically, emotionally, financially and spiritually to see that I achieve the things God lays on my heart to do. I am able to pursue everything I desire because he helps me, just as I help him too.

With all my heart, I want you to experience this as well, so pls, for this very crucial reason, put your feelings aside and take another good look at his character and behavior towards you before you decide.

The right man will enhance your life while the wrong one will hinder you! You will not make the wrong choice in Jesus name.

2

To secure your children's future.

Your children are going to be responsible for the consequences of every choice they make in life, but there is one choice that will affect their lives positively or negatively that they can't make for themselves. Only you make that choice for them: who will be their dad?

I cannot begin to stress the importance of this. Every father leaves an indelible mark on their children either positively or negatively. Their presence leaves a mark and their absence does too!

Sis, you are not just choosing a husband for yourself, you must let it sink that you are choosing a father for your children. What kind of dad will this guy be? What kind of model will he be? Would you want your son to be just like him?

Hear what God has to say concerning this: "Didn't the Lord make you one with your wife? In body and spirit, you are his. And what does he want? Godly children from your union. So, guard your heart; remain loyal to the wife of your youth". Malachi 2:15 NLT

Did you see that? God expects godly children from the marriage union! So, ask yourself is this someone I will be able to raise godly children with?

2

To secure your children's future.

Put aside all the love feelings you have for that guy for a moment and ask yourself, what kind of father will he be? Does he have enough self-discipline to instill discipline in his children, or will anything go with him?

Read what God said about Abraham as a father in Genesis 18:19! That is the kind of father you should choose for them.

Furthermore, does this guy have the inner strength to stick through hard times or will he bail on them when they need him just because its uncomfortable or tough? Assess him by his current character. If your mother had chosen him to be your father, will you be proud, or would you wonder "why mom"?

You owe it to them to choose someone they will be proud of, someone they can look up to, someone that will inspire them to reach for their highest dreams and fulfil their calling.

So, do not let this decision be about just you, or how he makes you feel. Choose with them in mind, because your choice will affect their lives.

For this second very crucial reason, you must decide that you will invest in knowledge to ensure that you choose the right man.

3

Your marriage will never leave you the same way.

You would either be changed positively or negatively by it.

Of all the physical influences for change in our life, I believe marriage to be the strongest. And it all has to do with who you are and who you choose to be married to.

Being married to the right man encourages and enhances your growth, because even though Mr Right isn't perfect, just as you aren't perfect, he will be willing to work through issues with you. He wouldn't just throw in the towel and give up when the going gets rough. He will want to grow with you as you both find better ways to deal with issues.

God uses your relationship with the right man to grow and groom you not just into the woman your husband needs, but into the woman the world needs.

Mr Right will also be supportive of you as you deal with your personal shortcomings, but the wrong man will always find a reason to aggravate and exaggerate your weaknesses. It'd be an opportunity for him to bring you down just to make himself look better. If you've experienced something like this, you'd know what I'm talking about.

3

Your marriage will never leave you the same way.

You're not perfect. You have weaknesses, just as he does, therefore you need a man who will grow with you, be supportive of your personal growth and be an honest and loving accountability partner as you seek to become better.

Here's what God says about this: "If one person falls, the other can reach out and help. But someone who falls alone is in real trouble".
Ecclesiastes 4:10 NLT

When you fall in character, Mr Right will be there to help pick you up and encourage your growth, but the wrong man will only kick you down further. You really are on your own when you're with the wrong man.

Be wise!

4

Life is a battlefield.

The fourth reason why you should be keen on marrying the right man is because life is a battlefield and marriage gives you the privilege of having your own personal back up in battle.

Here is what God says about this: "A person standing alone can be attacked and defeated, but two can stand back-to-back and conquer. Three are even better, for a triple-braided cord is not easily broken". Ecclesiastes 4:12 NLT

Marriage to the right man means you will not have to fight alone, you will always have someone in your corner, someone on your side, and with God you both can stand and conquer whatever comes your way.

The wrong man however will be the battle. Rather than help solve the problems, he'd help create them. So, when other life problems come, you both will be easily defeated and broken.

Life is not a walk in the park, challenges will definitely come. It is foolishness not to know this because even Jesus said to us "in this world you will have tribulations". John16:33. The best thing you can do for yourself is choose a fighter who will be on your side, who will fight alongside you not against you, who will not give up until victory is realized.

5

Life with Mr Right will be enjoyed not endured!

This is the fifth and final (for this season) reason why I believe you should be keen on marrying Mr Right, why you should be unwilling to just settle for anyone, why you should patiently wait to be found by him.

Here's what God says about this: "..Enjoy the wife you married as a young man." Proverbs 5:18(MSG). If he's to enjoy you, you're surely to enjoy him as well.

Challenges will come, that's a given, but through it all, you will have the one person with whom you can be joyful in the midst of trials, with whom you can laugh in the face of adversity, with whom you wouldn't have to hide your tears if there are some.

But for the most part, you will enjoy life with him, you will not have to painfully endure each passing day.

Before I got married, I heard this statement and it stuck: it is better to be single and waiting to get married, than to be married and trying to get out. There is no tearing apart of a marriage (i.e. divorce) that won't hurt like hell.

5

Life with Mr Right will be enjoyed not endured!

Most people rush into marriage because they want to enjoy their spouse, but if you rush to choose Mr wrong, you will find yourself enduring instead. So, wait and ensure (by putting facts over feelings) that this person is the right one for you!

In Conclusion...

If you settle down and think deep about this matter, I'm sure you will realize other strong, personal reasons why you shouldn't settle for just any how guy.

No matter how far you've gone with the wrong guy, it cannot compare to the number of years you have left on earth to be married to him. Be wise, run in the opposite direction before it's too late. After the vows are said, it's too late to complain.

In case you're wondering, "how do I know if this guy is right or wrong for me?". That's something I can help you with.

I am hosting a webinar titled: HOW TO KNOW YOUR MR RIGHT. Of course, I cannot teach it all in one webinar, but it would get you started and lay a solid foundation for the kind of courtship and marriage you desire.

Click LINK BELOW to watch it today!

<https://mailchi.mp/6d5e464210d4/howtoknowyourmrright>

Let me know how this book has blessed you, by sending me your comments at omowonuolaomoghene@gmail.com.

God bless you.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Omowonuola Omoghene is a relationship counselor who is focused on helping young Christian ladies identify the right man to marry, so that they can build a God glorifying courtship and marriage. She loves to open the eyes of young ladies to see the beautiful, mutually beneficial and long lasting love that God has in mind for them.

Although a holder of a Bachelor of Physiotherapy degree(Honours), Wonuola teaches and mentors on relationship issues from a very practical and relatable point of view, having courted her husband for a little less than seven years and experiencing firsthand all the struggles and effort that goes into building a courtship that honors God and blesses both individuals.

She is the author of several books including Keys to building a great courtship, Five types of men that will break your heart, God's own woman etc. She is also the creator of courses such as, Is he God's will for me and Identify Mr Right: A comprehensive guide to identifying the right man for you.

Omowonuola and her Mr Right are blissfully married and blessed with children.